II. Exhaustion of Administrative Remedies

NOTICE: Pursuant to the Prison Litigation Reform Act of 1995, "[n]o action shall be brought with respect to prison conditions under [42 U.S.C. § 1983], or any other Federal law, by a prisoner confined in any jail, prison, or other correctional facility until such administrative remedies as are available are exhausted." 42 U.S.C. § 1997e(a). Prior to filing suit, inmates are required to exhaust the available administrative remedy process, Jones v. Bock, 549 U.S. 199, 211, 127 S.Ct. 910, 918-19 (2007); McKinney v. Carey, 311 F.3d 1198, 1999 (9th Cir. 2002), and neither futility nor the unavailability of money damages will excuse the failure to exhaust, Porter v. Nussle, 534 U.S. 516, 524, 122 S.Ct. 983, 988 (2002). If the court determines that an inmate failed to exhaust prior to filing suit, the unexhausted claims will be dismissed, without prejudice. Jones, 549 U.S. at 223-24, 127 S.Ct. at 925-26.

IP seen with certified Spanish translator DDP C/O Luna. IP requested items large print texts and reading book. The patient is fluent in Spanish and he reports that he cannot read or write English. IP reports that he has memory issues when reading yet was able to recall a head injury incident and detailed description of the event of his time in the hospital. IP reported his injuries gave him cognitive delays. IP presented fluent and elegant in his Spanish speaking; was correcting the officer when translating to English. The IP was able to understand this clinician (spoken in English) because he responded before the Spanish interpretation was done. IP presented in pristine clothing, very well groomed, manicured nails, and his wheelchair was perfectly clean. There were no delays in speech, no lost of thought or distraction, could follow a linear line of thinking. Often used dramatic descriptions to enhance his details when describing prior prison environments. " I was in a dark room with no water or food and had no human contact when I was there". (spoken in Spanish) The IP primary considerations were that he has assistance with reading and writing. Further documentation to follow after consult with building staff and records. IP informed that consults and reviews will be done to consider if he merits a DDP evaluation he will be reappointed if evidence to indicate his requiring a new evaluation.
